BURGUNDY REPORT

2022

After 2021's homage to a more 'classic' vintage for Burgundy, the warm and dry summer of 2022 marks a return to another 'vintage of the future', following the trilogy of solar vintages that were 2018, 2019 and 2020. However, this latest addition to the string of vintages marked by climate change positively attests to the region's ability to firmly keep a hold on its identity.

We were in Burgundy in the last week of October, and at this early stage we believe that 2022 is not just better than the aforementioned, it's up there with the best vintages ever produced in this famous region. It's worth noting there are some important differences between 2022 and the recent vintages that precede it. Firstly and perhaps most importantly, the cellars are full and the winemakers are smiling, following what Michelot's Nicolas Mestre called 'an easy growing season, followed by another one' (referring to 2023 which they had just finished picking, and which will be even bigger!). Visit after visit, winemaker after winemaker, we couldn't find any examples of challenges during the vintage. 'No stress and nothing excessive', was Alex Bachelet's take on the vintage, which he says 'lets the terroir speak clearly, not the man.'

For opposing reasons, both 2020 and 2021 were very short on quantity: 2020 for drought and 2021 for frosts. Although temperatures of -4°C in April 2022 raised concerns of similar climatic threats, the disastrous levels of -7°C coupled with the snow that blighted 2021 were not repeated in 2022, thankfully. It is undeniable that recent vintages have seen an increase in unpredictable and more extreme weather, with earlier spring budding and the threat of frost – a potentially deadly combination for the vines.

As we've seen in previous vintages (such as 1992 following 1991), years that follow those affected by heavy frost damage will often bounce back with more volume, as has fortunately happened in 2022 where volumes are up 75% on average against 2021.

A guiding principle in preparing for tomorrow, now followed by most of the winemakers in the Cote d'Or, is what sets this vintage apart from those before it. 2022 is the new Burgundy all winemakers will aspire to when it comes to the vintages of tomorrow. Those who have been preparing for earlier, warmer and drier seasons are the ones producing exceptional wines in what is becoming the new order of climatic conditions in the Cote d'Or.

2022 is the most joyful vintage I have tasted at this early stage. Whether you're already a member of the Burgundy choir, or yet to acquire the Burgundy bug, this vintage is quite simply unmissable.

TABLE 1: DOMAINE WILLIAM FÈVRE

Chablis

The Fèvre family have played a prominent role in the Chablis region for over 250 years and William Fèvre has become one of the biggest landowners in Chablis with 78 hectares of prestigious vineyards, of which 15.9 hectares are classified as Premier Cru and 15.2 hectares as Grand Cru. With holdings in six of the seven Grand Cru appellations, no other producer can claim such a wide array of Chablis' finest vineyards. Year after year, Fèvre is the benchmark for classic Chablis.

TABLE 2: DOMAINE REGIS BOUVIER

Marsannay

Bernard Bouvier took over the vines of his brother Regis in 2019 and now produces these wines in his winery along with those of Domaine Rene Bouvier, where he has been winemaker since 1992. The focus here is on Marsannay, with some of the finest sites in this excellent village represented in the range, although Bernard does produce a range of superb wines from across the Côte-de-Nuits. There is great attention to detail, with viticulture following organic principles (not certified). Grapes are handpicked and sorted on receipt at the winery, with winemaking practices designed to allow for terroir expression. Since tasting for the first time at this domaine, we've been extremely impressed with the wines, with the reds showing great depth and balance and the whites full of verve.

TABLE 3: DOMAINE DROUHIN-LAROZE

Gevrey-Chambertin

The Drouhin family owns 11 hectares of vines including substantial holdings in some of the most famous Grand Cru sites in the Côte-de-Nuits – few producers can boast holdings in both Musigny and Chambertin. Since the 2014 vintage, Nicholas and Caroline have increasingly taken the reins from their father Philippe. This domaine has a long history of very fine wine making. Caroline also sources grapes from a close-knit group of growers for a range of négociant wines, labelled as Maison Laroze de Drouhin.

TABLE 4: DOMAINE MARC ROY

Gevrey-Chambertin

A tiny domaine of just three hectares, overseen by Alexandrine Roy and aided by her semi-retired father, Marc. We've seen something of a cult following develop for these special wines and rightly so, despite the domaine not having any Premier or Grand Crus in the portfolio. The Marsannay and Bourgogne Rouge come highly recommended for earlier drinking and as a gateway into Alexandrine's exceptional winemaking.

TABLE 5: DOMAINE ROSSIGNOL-TRAPET

Gevrey-Chambertin

Founded in 1990, Domaine Rossignol Trapet somehow feels far more mature, producing some of the region's finest wines, as well as a perennial favourite and top value Bourgogne Rouge. Fully biodynamic, brothers Nicholas and David continue to raise the bar - the biggest problem we have is getting enough wines from them at every level.

TABLE 6: DOMAINE TORTOCHOT

Gevrey-Chambertin - Represented by Chantal Tortochot

Based in the centre of Gevrey-Chambertin, Chantal Tortochot is a shining example of wines which demonstrate the energy and personality of their keeper. Her verve and charm show beautifully in these powerful but elegant expressions of Gevrey. Consistently producing what's recognised as one of the top Clos de Vougeot in blind tastings, the wines of Domaine Tortochot are becoming increasingly sought-after.

Chambolle-Musigny

We were proud to introduce the excellent wines of Michel Digioia two years ago and are pleased to continue to offer the excellent range. Michel's mother Geneviève Royer passed the domaine to him in 1999, with the holdings remaining modest at less than five hectares in total, with less than a hectare of Chambolle Fremieres, and less than half a hectare of each Premier Cru, Gruenchers and Groseilles. These wines are beautifully aromatic and representative of their appellations, showing texture and pu-

TABLE 8: DOMAINE ODOUL COQUARD

Morey-Saint-Denis - Represented by Sébastien Odoul

Picture by Jon Wyand

Domaine Odoul Coquard is based in the very north of Morey-Saint-Denis, with the winery situated alongside the Grand Cru Clos de la Roche. Sébastien Coquard farms a number of small holdings across the main villages of the Côte-de-Nuits, making a range of excellent wines. The style is relatively ripe and modern, with the wines tending to be of a darker, more purple shade than some of the lighter styles of Pinot. Despite the depth of colour in the wines, there is a conscious effort towards elegance and balance, with the wines retaining freshness on the finish. The wines show a sense of typicity of each village expressed in the bottle and the terroir of the vineyards evident within wines of the same village. The domaine continues to be entrusted with the Premier Cru of Clos la Riotte, an enclosed vineyard owned by the commune of Morey Saint Denis.

Nuits-Saint-Georges

Splendid, ten-hectare estate, created by Fernand Lécheneaut in the 1980s when land was affordable, and which is now run by his sons Philippe and Vincent. The wines are aged for 12–18 months in barrel, principally from Francois Frères.

TABLE 10: DOMAINE CHEVILLON-CHEZEAX

Nuits-Saint-Georges

The domaine, located in Nuits-Saint-Georges for five generations, was founded in 1887 by Eugène-François Chevillon but the current name was only adopted in 2000 when Philippe Chezeaux joined the estate, then managed by his wife Claire Chevillon and his parents-in-law, Michel and Pascale Chevillon. Today, the domaine covers almost nine hectares of vineyards and uses sustainable growing methods with the harvest carried out by hand. It includes at least 14 different appellations of which five are Nuits-Saint-Georges Premiers Crus. Talented and warm, Philippe Chezeaux makes wines in his own image; wines of great typicity and which are the best possible expression of the terroirs from which they hail.

TABLE 11: DOMAINE TOLLOT-BEAUT

Chorey-Lès-Beaune

Domaine Tollot-Beaut, located in Chorey-Lès-Beaune, was started in 1880 by François Tollot. The fifth generation of the family, Nathalie Tollot and her two cousins, Olivier and Jean-Paul, now oversee the domaine. The wines are easily recognised by their wonderful purity of fruit and brilliant balance with wonderful spice and generous oak. Pioneers in the early 20th century for producing and bottling domaine wines, investment in the future continues in both the vineyard and the winery.

TABLE 12: BOUCHÀRD PÈRE ET FILS

Beaune

Established in 1731 by Michel Bouchard, a draper merchant from the Dauphiné region, Maison Bouchard Père & Fils has built a unique and exceptional heritage. Settled in the Château de Beaune since 1820, its wines benefit from the best ageing conditions in the underground galleries of this royal fortress from the 15th century. The Bouchard Père & Fils estate holds some of the finest plots in the most prestigious Côte-de-Nuits and Côte de Beaune vineyards with more than two-thirds planted in Grands Crus and Premiers Crus appellations. The same, exclusive high standards underpin every single wine that is matured at the Maison. Vinegrowers, workers and the cellar master share the same values: respecting the integrity of the grape and the unique features of the terroirs. Through an approach that excludes any artificial method in favour of gentle, precise winemaking where each cuvée is left to mature naturally, at its own pace.

Volnay - Represented by Etienne Chaix

Admired by all the up-and-coming winemakers, Jean-Pierre Charlot (Joseph Voillot's son-in-law: 'winemaker par excellence chez Voillot', Neal Martin) is something of the Grand master, most probably because at some stage he will have had a hand in their wine making education. Jean-Pierre's enthusiastic nephew Etienne has recently taken the reigns at the domaine.

"These are wines, to put it prosaically, that represent proper Burgundy"

Meursault - Represented by Nicolas Mestre

Finding both quality and quantity in the finest domaines of Burgundy is not easy. Domaine Michelot however boasts a total of 19 hectares of vines, and they apply the most natural methods possible to preserve the quality of the grapes. Their wines are simply delicious and display the finest characteristics of Meursault. Jean-Francois Mestre has been in charge since 1993 but increasingly his son Nicolas drives the winemaking with a focus on purity of fruit and expression of terroir.

Meursault - Represented by Pascal Prunier and Christine Bonheur

Being the fifth generation of winegrowers in the family, Pascal Prunier took over his father's estate in the 1980s. Today Domaine Pascal Prunier-Bonheur bears the name of both Pascal and his wife, Christine Bonheur. The estate spreads over 8 ha across Saint-Romain towards Auxey-Duresses, Monthelie, Meursault and Pommard. Combining tradition and modernity their wines are known for their elegance and reasonable prices, something that can be difficult to find in Burgundy.

Puligny Montrachet

Brothers Jean-Louis and Alain have split the well-known family vineyards between them. Jean-Louis works with six hectares of vines and has built his own winery that was finished in 2004. As you would expect everything is spotlessly clean and well presented. The winemaking and ageing style is traditional, producing an elegant style of Puligny with very subtle use of oak.

TABLE 18: DOMAINE PAUL PILLOT

Chassagne-Montrachet

With 13 hectares in Chassagne and Saint Aubin, Thierry Pillot makes sublime wines from Aligoté to Premier Cru Chassagne-Montrachet. He and his sister Chrystelle (married to Arnaud Mortet, of Domaine Denis Mortet in Gevrey-Chambertin) are both charming and tasting with Thierry it's easy to imagine his bright, lively personality carrying through into the wines. Minimum oak intervention and respect for the terroir, these wines show sheer elegance throughout, minerality being the favoured expression.

TABLE 20: DOMAINE BACHELET-MONNOT

Maranges

We have followed brothers Marc and Alexandre Bachelet for some years since they took over at this 10-hectare domaine in Maranges. A domaine totally on track: from both improvements in the cellar buildings, to the pursuit of natural greatness in the vineyards. They even have three different types of grape press to respect every terroir. Pretty much organic, but like many growers they reserve the right to intervene in the vines, should the need arise. Wines that showcase purity of fruit and the vineyard sites. Notable as standard bearers for the relatively unknown Maranges appellation. For the whites, gentle pressing and controlled use of oxygen in the élevage of the wines is more important than excessive bâtonnage (lees stirring), resulting in exceptionally pure wines.

TABLE 21: CHÂTEAU DE CHAMILLY

Mercrey - Represented by Arnaud Desfontaine

Château de Chamilly were previous suppliers of Davy's Red Burgundy (going back some 20 years). The Domaine is now run by sons Arnaud and Xavier and they, as is the case in so many places, are bringing new investment, new philosophies and new energy to the vineyards and winemaking. It is a beautiful property situated off the beaten track amongst rolling countryside split with both vines and other forms of farming. Vineyard holdings are split evenly between whites and reds and are farmed following organic principles, although the domaine have not pursued certification.

TABLE 22: DOMAINE SÈVE

Mâconnais

Domaine Sève is a small but impeccable family property that lie on the steep slopes overlooking Solutre, one of the finest of all the Macon Villages and the very core of the appellation. Siblings Mathilde and Antoine Sève, the current generation, use oak carefully not to create oaky flavours but to allow an exchange between oxygen and the developing wine, with spectacular results.
