WELCOME TO DAVY'S

For 153 years we have been privileged to work with a portfolio of outstanding producers from across the world. It is always a pleasure to seek out new additions to the portfolio from new wine regions, styles, and innovations in winemaking and viticulture, yet at the same time, the long standing relationships with producers of great wines from established regions is every bit as rewarding.

All of our producers make great wine, and just as importantly produce them in ever more sustainable ways. The buying team continue to seek out growers and winemakers who share our values for sustainability, and respect for the land and people alike. This Autumn, we are thrilled to introduce five remarkable producers to our portfolio. La Ronciere, which is located in Chile's Curicó Valley, who as well as having a rich history dating back to 1949, have led the charge in the establishment of Chile's latest sub-region, Licantén – the coastal Idahue Estate is currently the only winery within the D.O. Durigutti Family Winemakers, from Mendoza in Argentina, have a commitment to sustainability and their passion for winemaking recently earned winemakers Hector and Pablo Durigutti, the title of Winemakers of the Year 2023, by Tim Atkin MW. Modeano, situated in an ancient village within Friuli, Italy, is a small family-owned business committed to sustainable practices – nestled on the coast the cooling sea breezes and long warm summers produce incredibly fresh wines rich in fruit concentration. Château La Hase near Fronsac, Bordeaux, blends tradition and modern winemaking to craft a unique style of biodynamic Bordeaux wine and finally, Quinta da Torre's 'Dom Salvador' from Portugal's premium sub region Monção and Melgaço in Vinho Verde, embodies the essence of Alvarinho and its unique terroir.

As our portfolio grows, so does the team working from our Cellars and Headquarters in Greenwich. Working hard to ensure we continue to provide great service and support to all our valued customers.

From all of us here at Davy's, we wish you a successful year ahead, and thank you for your custom.

Mendoza

Domaine Bousquet

The Bousquet family relocated to the foothills of the Andes from the South of France in 1997. Their aim was to bring together traditional French winemaking practices along with the ideal agricultural conditions Mendoza had to offer. Based in Tupungato, their 110-hectare vineyard is at an altitude of 1200m. Along with being one of the highest vineyards in the world, the unique cool nights and constant breeze, as well as very low rainfall, creates perfect conditions for the production of organically grown ripe fruit, with bright acidity.

Durigutti

Durigutti Family Winemakers is a family winery founded in 2002 by brothers and winemakers Héctor and Pablo Durigutti. The winery is located in the heart of Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza – the spiritual home of Argentinian Malbec. This family venture has grown and developed in just over two decades to encompass wine production, regional tourism and hospitality; grounded in the principles of agro-ecological sustainability and the preservation of regional heritage. Their winemaking philosophy is to produce wines that reflect the terroir and the identity of each vineyard, using organic, minimal intervention and sustainable practices. Héctor and Pablo were named Winemakers of the Year by Tim Atkin MW in his 2023 Argentina Special Report.

Gouguenheim

Patricio Gouguenheim's love of wine started at an early age when his French parents gave him a little bit of wine mixed with sparkling water. Many years later, his interest and passion for wine alongside his dream of producing wines which he could be proud of, led him to establish the estate. Located 45 miles from the city of Mendoza in the foothills of the Andes, Gouguenheim is one of the best-kept secrets in the Uco Valley. Situated at an altitude of 3,600 feet (one of the highest estates in Mendoza), the estate benefits from the vast temperature difference between day and night which together with irrigation from the Andes snowmelt, allows the estate to produce fruit with optimum ripening and concentration. With the expertise of Patricio and his winemaking team, the resulting wines offer impeccable quality and great value.

Adelaide Hills

Sidewood Estate

Sidewood Estate is a family-owned estate located in the Adelaide Hills, the heart of Australian cool climate wine production. In 2004, Owen and Cassandra Inglis purchased the estate with the goal of creating elegant and stylish wines, focused on quality and underpinned by impeccable winemaking which reflect the beauty of the region. Every wine produced from the estate is made from carefully handpicked fruit from selected rows across their 300-acres of vineyards, before being entrusted to internationally acclaimed winemaker Darryl Catlin. They are the largest Certified Sustainable Winery in the Adelaide Hills and are accredited with a 5 Red Star Halliday Wine Companion rating for regularly producing wines of exemplary quality and typicity.

La Ronciere

Chile

La Ronciere

La Ronciere is a family-owned winery in Chile's Curicó Valley, which was founded in 1949. Recognising the unique climate provided by prevailing coastal breezes and abundant sunshine, matched with a rich diversity of soils spread over rolling hills in Licanten, La Ronciere established their Idahue Estate, which they see as their vision for the future. Despite the region being given D.O status in 2018, the Idahue Estate is the only vineyard planted in the region and its potential is just starting to be unlocked.

Jean Becker

The Becker family's winemaking legacy dates back to 1610, in Zellenberg, a village opposite Riquewhir, in eastern France. Thirteen generations on, the custodianship of the estate is now in the hands of Jean Becker, who has overseen the organic certification of all five of their vineyard holdings, which are spread across five Grand Cru areas of Alsace. Their certification reinforces their attention to detail, respect for their unique terroir and dedication to producing wines of the highest standard.

Château George 7

Château George 7 FRONSAC

Château George 7 is a new boutique winery in Fronsac, which is a lesser-known right bank appellation in Bordeaux near Pomerol and St-Émilion. The estate's owner Sally Evans, purchased what was a dilapidated property with 35-year-old Merlot vines in 2015, since then Sally has built a new winery and tasting facility which will ensure the estate's legacy lives on. Committed to sustainability, Château George 7 has shifted to a holistic approach to viticulture and has the highest level of High Environmental Value certification. Changes include mechanical weeding, planting hedgerows for biodiversity to retain balance in the vineyard along with a review of all packaging to ensure sustainability is considered at every stage.

Château de Fieuzal PESSAC-LÉOGNAN

Fieuzal is named after the family who owned the property until 1851. It is now owned by Irish wine lovers Brenda and Lochlann Quinn who acquired the Château in 2001. Their goal is to tread the ever-evolving line between continuous technical innovations in winemaking and viticulture, while maintaining the traditional style of Fieuzal's wines. As part of the wine renaissance at Fieuzal, the vineyard is managed on a plot-by-plot basis, which allows for tailored winemaking processes that avoid masking or muting their distinct flavours and aromas.

Château Daugay SAINT-ÉMILION

Situated at the foot of the southern and south-western part of St-Émilion, Château Daugay takes its name from the word "geai," meaning "jay," which refers to the birds that congregate on the hills and slopes that now bear this name. The domaine was acquired by Christian de Brouard after World War II and became part of Angélus. However, in 1985, with the new St-Émilion classification, Daugay separated from Angélus and the property passed into the hands of Christian's daughter, Hélène, who now manages the estate and applies the same winemaking methods used by her family for generations.

Château Fonplégade

Château Fonplégade SAINT-ÉMILION

For centuries, the vines of Château Fonplégade, which means fountain of plenty, have produced some of St-Émilion's most sought-after grapes. Vines are grown on limestone and clay soils and are nourished in drier years by the deep underground water source that feeds the estates fountain, which as well as providing sustenance to the grapes has quenched the thirst of passing pilgrims for hundreds of years. The vineyards are managed using organic practices and a meticulous hands-on approach.

Château de Laborde CÔTE DE BEAUNE

Château de Laborde is a historic winery located near Beaune, with a rich history dating back to 1119. Once owned by the Dukes of Burgundy, the estate was transformed into a magnificent Château in 1678, earning it the nickname “The Versailles of Burgundy.” However, after falling into disrepair, the Château was purchased in 1998 by Hervé Kerlann, a wine enthusiast who had worked in the fine wine distribution industry. Hervé and his wife Mandy have since restored the Château and its vineyards, producing local and daring wines that challenge tradition while respecting the soil, grape variety, and vintage. The estate now spans four hectares of family-owned vineyards, with an additional nine hectares of grapes under contract.

Domaine Tollot Beaud CÔTE DE BEAUNE

Domaine Tollot-Beaud was among the group of pioneering Burgundians who started producing and bottling their own wines in the early part of the 20th century. As rich in tradition as this Domaine has, under Nathalie Tollot, no one rests on their laurels, and a premium is placed on quality. A significant amount of money is invested in oak every year to ensure a good stock of healthy barrels, which provide the perfect resting place for their magnificent wines. However, it is the vineyard where most of the investment goes. They employ twice as many people per hectare as any of their neighbours, with their efforts focussed on restricting the vigour of the vines and therefore increasing the chances of ripe, concentrated grapes being produced every year. The wines remain respectful to their origins while sharing characteristic spicy, toasty, and cherry fruit flavours.

This fully biodynamic Domaine is run by brothers Nicholas and David, who continue to raise the bar for sensational winemaking. Their commitment and attention to detail in the vineyard and winery result in exceptional wines that truly reflect the terroir of their vineyards. The biggest challenge is always getting enough of their wines at every level. The secret is very much out, so grab them while you can.

Domaine Tortochot CÔTE DE NUITS

Founded in the 19th century by Paul Tortochot, the Domaine is now managed by Chantal Tortochot, who has renovated the property and has brought it to its current glory. It spans 11 hectares of vineyards, most of which are located in Gevrey-Chambertin. The Domaine also owns seven rows of the famous Clos de Vougeot Grand Cru. Since 2012, the wines have been certified organic, reflecting the commitment to sustainable and environmentally friendly practices.

Domaine Régis Bouvier CÔTE DE NUITS

Bernard Bouvier took over the vines of his brother Régis in 2019 and now produces wines under both his own name and that of Domaine René Bouvier, where he has been the winemaker since 1992. The domaine spans 30 hectares and produces a range of excellent wines from villages such as Morey, Gevrey, and Chambolle, to name just a few. However, Bernard's main focus is on Marsannay, an underrated appellation in the northernmost part of the Côtes de Nuits. Bernard follows organic principles and pays great attention to detail. Grapes are tasted on the vine to ensure perfect ripeness, handpicked, and sorted upon arrival at the winery. Very little extraction is done during maceration to gently encourage balance and vibrancy. As a result, his reds have silky and delicate tannins, while his whites are full of verve and retain the freshness of the fruit.

Domaine Chêne

Domaine Chêne MÂCONNAIS

With vineyards in two top locations in the Mâconnais, La Roche-Vineuse and St-Véran, this excellent Domaine has a huge amount to offer. Cédric and his wife Nadine are dedicated supporters of the Lutte Raisonnée (minimum intervention) system of agriculture, and they keep yields low, which ups the quality no end. They have attracted more than their fair share of media attention (Guide Hachette, Decanter, La Revue des Vins de France) and won medals in numerous renowned wine competitions.

Duménil Champagne House

Champagne Duménil

Duménil is an independent Champagne House founded in 1874 by Emile-Paul Duménil and has remained in the family for five generations. Today, Frédérique, his great-granddaughter, and her husband Hugues Poret-Duménil oversee the Domaine. Both passionate about the vineyard and wine, they craft their Champagnes with the highest respect for their land. All of the Domaine's vineyards are nestled in the heart of the Montagne de Reims and unlike many other Domaines' in Champagne, they are all Premier Cru, spread across four villages - Chigny-les-Roses, Rilly la Montagne, Ludes, and Sacy.

Gosset

Pierre Gosset was Mayor of Aÿ when, in 1584, he founded his boutique Champagne House. Gosset still has a site in Aÿ, although they now have a grander establishment in Épernay as well. They attach great importance to the specific character of each individual terroir and, using their long-standing relationships, they blend together the best Crus from 45 Grand and Premier Cru villages to great effect. They believe in the old ways; not only is the fruit all harvested by hand, but the 'remuage' (turning of the bottles) is all done by hand as well. The results speak for themselves.

H. Blin

Champagne H. Blin was started in 1947 by Henri Blin, from the ancient Vincelles family, who bought a press house together with 28 other winemakers. Pinot Meunier dominant, the House is situated in the Marne Valley where this grape flourishes, producing a unique, subtle freshness and fruitiness. The union of growers now boasts 110 hectares of vines, all planted around Vincelles, giving the Champagnes a strong identity and sense of terroir.

Louis Roederer

One of the main strengths of this fine Champagne House is that it owns 214 hectares of vines in the three main Champagne regions (Montagne de Reims, Vallée de la Marne, and the Côtes des Blancs). They believe that the secret of any fine wine lies in the vineyards, and it is no coincidence, therefore, that their Cellar Director is also their Vineyard Director. Rich, powerful, and classy, Roederer is hard to beat.

Loire

Caves de Pouilly-sur-Loire

Pouilly-Fumé lies across the river Loire from Sancerre, where it produces only half as much wine as its better-known neighbour. The region has many small growers, and some of the best of these have grouped together to form 'Caves de Pouilly-sur-Loire', reasoning that by pooling resources, they are assured access to the best winemaking facilities available. This is of enormous help in making vibrant, aromatic Sauvignon in this relatively northern wine-growing area. Well-founded and well-managed, wines made by this organisation are always excellent.

Domaine de Pallus is located in the Loire Valley's prestigious Chinon appellation, spread across 12 hectares of vineyards located on the hillside, which are all considered as Grand Cru. Fifth generation family member Bertrand Sourdais has been in charge since 2005. The site, Cravant les Coteaux, offers perfect conditions for growing Cabernet Franc. As part of the estate's commitment to sustainable winemaking, biodynamic principles of viticulture are extensively used. Domaine Marchesseau

Since 2001, the Marchesseau brothers, Bertrand and Vincent, have been managing their family's Domaine. The estate has holdings in three appellations: Bourgueil, Chinon, and St Nicolas de Bourgueil. The brothers are dedicated to organic farming and are constantly making improvements in both the vineyard and the winery to maintain the quality of their wines. Although all production is dedicated to a single grape variety, Cabernet Franc, the Domaine produces different cuvées that reflect the terroirs of each of the three appellations.

Provence

Croix d'Allons

Located in Bandol, this small family estate was founded in 1924 by Philippe Damiano's grandparents, Pierre and Maria. The vines are grown on ancient geological formations from the Triassic period and are naturally sheltered from the cold north wind, known as the 'Mistral'. This allows the grapes to achieve optimum ripeness, particularly important for growing Mourvèdre, the main variety planted on the estate. When Philippe took over, he converted his nine hectares of vineyards to organic farming. With the help of his wife Florence, he produces one red and one rosé wine from Mourvèdre, Grenache, and Cinsault, as well as one white wine from Clairette and Ugni Blanc. His wines are classic Bandol: full-bodied and rich with a spicy and earthy character.

Château Croix d'Allons

Château de Mille

Château de Mille

Château de Mille is the oldest vineyard in the Luberon Natural Park, with the oldest vines dating back to 1238. The entire estate covers 116 hectares, with 25 dedicated to vines. Since purchasing the Château in 2018, French-American couple Constance and Lawrence Slaughter have transformed the estate by converting to organic practices, transitioning to biodynamic cultivation, developing an active biodiversity strategy, and modernising winemaking tools. The vineyard is north-facing and has a wide range of soils and grape varieties, with old vines between 50 and 70 years. Its altitude of 200-400 meters and location between the southern Rhône valley and high Provençal plateaus create a wonderful micro-climate. Combined with the significant number of old vines and low yields, this results in wines with exceptional freshness, fruit, and character.

Domaine du Dragon

Domaine du Dragon is a family-owned winery located on 24 hectares of rich clay-limestone soil in the south-facing forested hills just west of Saint-Tropez, in the southeastern Provence region of Draguignan. The winery takes its name from the folklore recounted by Provençal historian and writer, Jean de Nostradamus, who told of a battle between a dragon in the forest of Ampus and a local bishop Saint Hermentaire, who eventually saved the townspeople by slaying the monster.

St Sidoine

St Sidoine is a well-established co-operative that specialises in producing fine, focused Provence rosés with an emphasis on delicate, elegant fruit and minerality. The co-operative uses modern vinification techniques to create their wines. The soils in the region are poor and stony, resulting in low yields. Monsieur Camous, president of the co-operative, explains that the afternoon sea breeze helps to refresh the atmosphere and reduce heat stress on the vines. This results in wines with better balance.

Domaine Clusel-Roch

The estate is currently managed by Gilbert Clusel, Brigitte Roch, and their son Guillaume Clusel. It spans eight hectares of vineyards, including half a hectare of Condrieu and the rest Côte-Rôtie on three historic vineyards of the Lyonnais: Ampuis (AOC Côte-Rôtie), Condrieu (AOC Condrieu), and Millery (AOC Coteaux du Lyonnais). The estate is highly regarded in Côte-Rôtie for producing Syrah with an intense purity of red and black fruit and a harmonious integration of spice. The vineyards have been organic since 2002.

From the late 16th century, Curson Castle belonged to Diane de Poitiers, the mistress of King Henry II of France. In 1584, her daughter Louise de Brézé sold the property to the Lord of Chevières. Several generations succeeded each other for more than 200 years until Nicolas Amédée of the Croix Marquis de Chevières rented the castle to the ancestors of the current Domaine owners, who then bought it a few years later. Etienne Pochon has almost 16 hectares of vineyards in Crozes-Hermitage, with 12 hectares dedicated to Syrah and the remaining four planted with white grapes. Château des Roques

This estate is located on the rocky plateau of des Roques, a hamlet on the outskirts of Vacqueyras. It is owned and run by the Seroul family, who manage it using traditional methods. The harvesting and sorting of all the fruit is carried out by hand. The blend is a classic Southern Rhône Valley mix of 70% Grenache, 15% Mourvèdre, and 15% Syrah, with the vines being, on average, over 40 years old. Although Vacqueyras has been somewhat eclipsed in reputation by its more illustrious neighbours, Gigondas and Châteauneuf-du-Pape, it has plenty to offer and deserves to be much better known.

The Domaine des Carabiniers has been owned by the Leperchois family for many generations. Situated in the commune of Roquemaure in the Gard department, an ancient river port on the right bank of the Rhône, their 40 hectares of vineyards are planted on sand, colluvium, clay, limestone and rolled pebbles dating back to the Pliocene epoch several millions of years ago. Since the fifth generation, Magali and Fabien, took on the Domaine they have converted the entire property to practice organic and biodynamic winemaking and were ECOCERT certified in 1997 and DEMETER certified in 2009. The Domaine des Carabiniers' meticulous approach to vineyard management and low-intervention winemaking allow them to produce some of the best wines in the region.

Domaine du Grand Tinel

The Domaine in its current state was established in 1972, due to the marriage of two long-established winemaking families of Establet and Jeune. The estate now has 56 hectares of vineyards within Châteauneuf-du-Pape, planted with Grenache, Syrah, Cinsault, Mourvèdre, Counoise, Grenache Blanc, Clairette, and Bourboulenc. These grapes are used for Châteauneuf-du-Pape red and white wines. Additionally, the estate has 18 more hectares planted with grapes destined for their Côtes-du-Rhône wines.

Domaine Font de Vent

Font de Vent owes its current form to Etienne Gonnet, who worked closely with his brother-in-law Henri Brunier of Vieux Télégraphe – the neighbouring estate in Bédarrides. The estate is now owned by Etienne's sons Michel and Jean, and is largely run by their sons Guillaume and Bertrand, respectively, with the help of Guillaume's Australian wife, Kelly. Their house style focuses on the purity and expression of fruit. The wine is matured in large foudres and smaller-size oak fûts, or casks that are used for only two to five wine maturations.

Domaine les Hautes Cances

The family estate was first established in the 1890s, but it wasn't until 1995 when Anne-Marie (daughter of Odette and Arnaud Achiary) and Jean-Marie Astart formally founded the Domaine les Hautes Cances. They chose to follow environmentally friendly farming methods and used a varied collection of old oak barrels to produce wines with a fabulous expression of the terroir. In 2019 the Domaine was purchased by the Amadiou family, of Gigondas fame, who have preserved the Astart family's commitment to sustainable winemaking and have already started a programme of further investment into the winery and the vineyards.

Pierre Amadiou

Pierre Amadiou

Domaine Pierre Amadiou was founded in 1929 with just seven hectares of vines. At the time, wines were matured in an old railway tunnel, which provided an ideal temperature for the process. In the 1950s, two properties, Romane and La Machotte, were added to the estate, making it one of the largest in Gigondas. Each parcel of fruit is carefully selected to express this exceptional terroir, producing elegant wines with great length and freshness. Today, Pierre Amadiou Jr, the third generation of the family, runs the company with the help of his cousins.

Sadly, Luc passed away in 2010 at the young age of 45, at which point his sister Veronique took over the reins. The terroir of the Domaine ranges from stone and gravel to sand and limestone soils, totalling 15.63 hectares of vines in Châteauneuf-du-Pape, with plantings extending into Côte du Rhône and d'Orange. The vineyards are divided into 61 separate parcels that are dispersed in different lieux-dits in Châteauneuf-du-Pape.

Clos des Nines

At the end of the 1990s, Isabelle Mangeart settled in the Languedoc, seduced by its strong identity, history, landscapes, and wine culture. After enrolling in a Viticulture and Oenology course in Montpellier, she gained experience working alongside vinegrowers and winemakers. Isabelle now owns eight hectares of vines surrounded by dry stone walls and nestled on hills near Montpellier. Certified organic since 2013, only organic compost is used and chemicals are strictly prohibited. Red grape varieties are planted on clay-limestone soils which preserve the acidity of the grapes. White grapes grow on silty-sandy soils which allow good water drainage.

The current owner and head winemaker of S.A. Prüm, which was established in 1911 by his grandfather Sebastian Alois Prüm, is Raimund Prüm. He has been leading the estate since 1971 and has made it one of the most successful wineries in Germany's renowned Mosel wine region. S.A. Prüm is a founding member of the VDP (Association of German Premium Wineries), a group of Germany's top producers. Raimund Prüm follows organic practices, hand-picking and strict yield control to ensure the highest quality. The estate has 13 hectares of vineyards, planted exclusively with Riesling on the steep slopes of the middle Mosel.

Modeano

Friuli Modeano

Modeano is an ancient village in the Friulian Riviera, that has a rich history of wine production dating back to Roman times. Norberto Marzotto, the estate's founder, played a pivotal role in reviving the regions wine production in the early 20th century. Now, Gabriele Vialeto and his wife Emanuela run the estate. Their modern winery is in a farmhouse that borders the small church of Madonna del Rosario. Modeano's vineyards, which are halfway between Venice and Trieste, benefit from the cooling influence of the sea breezes along with long warm summers producing wines with rich concentration and balanced acidity. The 32 hectares of vineyards have well-drained clay soils with minerals from the ice age, enhancing Modeano's wines in the Friuli-Venezia Giulia.

Puglia

Paolo Leo

The story of this beautiful estate in Salento, Puglia, starts at the turn of the 19th century when Antonio Leo started to vinify grapes grown on his 20-hectare estate, Masseria Monticello. The estate then passed to Antonio's grandson Paolo Leo, who inherited the land and built his own winery. In the 1950s, the fourth generation of the Leo family replanted the vineyards with Negroamaro, Primitivo, and Malvasia Nera, and in the 1980s, the fifth generation of the family built the winery in San Donaci. Paolo Leo is now run by the sixth generation and specialises in the indigenous varietals of southern Italy and Puglia.

Castelli del Grevepesa CHIANTI

Castelli de Grevepesa is a modern social winery, founded 50 years ago. They source their grapes from their 120+ members, all located in the various areas of the Florentine Chianti Classico region, including the top wine villages of Panzano, Lamole, Val de Pesa, and Bibbione. Respecting the region's traditional viticultural and winemaking techniques, they are also looking to implement innovative methods in order to produce typical and affordable Chianti Classico wines. Rigorous selection of the grapes and strict control over the vinification process are key to achieving their goal. Castelli del Grevepesa releases their wines under three different labels: Castelgreve, Clement VII, and Castle of Bibbione.

Nardi CHIANTI

Located near Castellina, in the heart of Chianti, Nardi Viticoltori is a family-run and one of the youngest wineries in the region. After gaining experience in some of Chianti's best estates, brothers Giacomo and Angelo Nardi decided to produce their own wines from the family vines, just for fun, in 2014. Their passion paid off and today they produce four wines from their own land. The vineyards benefit from a southeast exposition and spread over 10-hectares of clay soils. Yields are kept low to produce grapes with great concentration of fruit, and the winery is in the middle of the vineyards, so the grapes are pressed with no delay, retaining their freshness.

Te Kano

Te Kano, meaning 'The Seed' in Maori, is a family-owned wine estate in Central Otago that primarily produces artisanal Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Pinot Gris. The estate's owners, the Lloyd family, are passionate about the land and committed to its rejuvenation, reminding us that the seeds we plant today will blossom for generations to come. Following organic practices, they grow and create all their wines from estate grown fruit, overseeing every step from grape to glass. The wines reflect their place and express the characteristics of three distinct Otago subregions: Bannockburn, Northburn, and Waitaki. Low yielding, delicately handled, and sustainably farmed, Te Kano has quickly established itself among the finest producers in the region.

Marlborough

Little Beauty

This great little privately-owned estate lies in Marlborough's Southern Valleys, where the wines differ slightly from the mainstream. This delectable property is spread over five plots, each with its own soil profile and microclimate, which allows winemaker Eveline Fraser (recently former head winemaker at Cloudy Bay) the chance to make unusually complex, multi-dimensional wines. The winemaking is modern, but there is more than a nod towards tradition; in 'Little Beauty', the best of new and the best of the old unite seamlessly.

Waiheke Island

Stonyridge

Stonyridge Vineyard is the ongoing dream of owner Stephen White. In 1981 Stephen returned to New Zealand after sailing a Whitbread Round the World Race, skipping yachts in the Mediterranean and Caribbean, and working at wineries in France, California and Italy. It was during this three-year adventure that Stephen came to love the culture and lifestyle of the Mediterranean and the great red wines of France, Tuscany and California. After extensive climatic research, Stephen identified what is now Stonyridge on Waiheke Island in New Zealand as the ideal north-facing site to ripen and produce world-class Bordeaux-style wines.

Waipara

Mount Brown

Lying in the foothills of Mount Brown in the Waipara Valley, this abandoned wine estate was only rediscovered 16 years ago and it is something of a success story. Waipara has a greater variation in temperature between night and day than more northerly Marlborough, yields are much lower, and this valley is fast establishing a reputation for quality. Aromatic varieties such as Pinot Gris and Pinot Noir, are perfectly suited to Mount Brown's small sheltered stony site, and winemaking here is of a very high order.

Portugal

Alentejo

Bojador Espaço Rural

Espaço Rural is the personal project of Pedro Ribeiro and his wife, Catarine Vieira. They were both winemakers in other Portuguese regions before deciding to move to Vidigueira in the Alentejo. Their goal is to produce wines that are true to the historical traditions of the land. They adopt methods such as low yields, careful pruning and early harvesting in addition to organic farming methods in the vineyard. As a tribute to the winemaking traditions of the region, they ferment some of their wines in impermeable pots called Talha, where the wine and skins must remain in contact until November 11th (St. Martin's Day). The resulting wines are mineral, fresh, elegant and, above all, authentic.

Somontes Casa de Passarella

Dão

Somontes Casa da Passarella

Casa da Passarella is a 150-year-old winery founded by Amand d'Oliveira, who made his fortune in Brazil before coming to the Dão region. After building a beautiful villa in Lagarinhos, he decided to surround it with an impressive 200 hectares of vines. In 2007, Ricardo Cabral took over the estate and his priority was to rebuild the winery as well as focusing on growing indigenous grape varieties. He hired consultant winemaker Paulo Nunes, who produces wines that stand out for their freshness, mineral character, and longevity. Paulo was one of the first to recognise the advantages of the higher altitude vineyards situated in the Serra d'Estrela (700–800m high compared to the other Passarella's vineyards at 400–600m).

Quinta da Silveira

Situated in the Douro Valley, Quinta da Silveira was founded in the mid-19th century and has since remained in the same family. Today, Manuel Maria Martinho, the sixth generation, runs the winery alongside winemaker Rodrigo Martins. Staying true to their heritage, traditional winemaking methods are still in use, including crushing the grapes by feet and fermentation using natural yeasts in traditional open tanks known as 'lagares'.

Dom Salvador

Vinho Verde
Dom Salvador

Quinta da Torre is a family-owned estate in Melgaço where the Salvador family has been producing Alvarinho since 1976. Located in the Vinho Verde sub-region of Monção e Melgaço DOC, where the character of Alvarinho wine was shaped. The region’s granite-based soils extend from the Minho River valley to the mountainsides, providing an ideal terroir and benefiting from the mountainous climate that protects them from the Atlantic influence. The family’s careful rejuvenation of the original estate – some of which dates back to 1929 – including the addition of a modern cellar in 1995, has meant that the family has been able to increase wine production without compromising quality or losing the estate’s architectural charm. Their wine, Dom Salvador expresses the essence of Alvarinho and its terroir.

Franschhoek

Franschhoek Cellars

Under relatively new management and with a young winemaking team, Franschhoek Cellar (founded in 1945) has shed its old co-operative image in favour of a dynamic drive to produce quality wines at affordable prices. Recent investments in winemaking equipment have ensured that the estate continue to produce well-made wines with excellent varietal character and weight of fruit for easy drinking. The Franschhoek Valley is a relatively small area that was settled in the late 1600s by 200 Protestant Huguenot immigrants fleeing from Catholic persecution in France. Consequently, the winemaking tradition is French, with noble varietals dominating production.

Rikus Neethling Wines

The word 'Bizoe' is derived from the French word 'Bisous', meaning little kiss, and is the creation of vintner Rikus Neethling. 'Less is more' underpins the estate's vinification and viticulture philosophy, which promotes the production of high-quality wines from the best-selected grapes. The estate's location in the Western Cape of South Africa, with blue skies and majestic mountain backdrops, provides the perfect setting for Rikus to combine both his passion and knowledge for wine and the region. As a result, his handcrafted wines are a true reflection of the terroir as well as his individuality.

Roodekrantz

Roodekrantz Wines is a small boutique label that crafts fine artisanal wines from selected blocks of old dry land vines with exceptional terroir. South Africa's 'Old Vine Project', which aims to keep rare old-vine fruit away from large commercial blends, saw the Burger and Morkel families release the first Roodekrantz wines in 2015. Committed to preserving these ancient Certified Old Vine Heritage Vineyards, they work closely with their growers, encouraging respectful and sustainable vineyard practices. They source old parcels from Stellenbosch, Paarl, and Swartland, primarily focusing on producing Chenin Blanc. Their wines are made with minimal intervention in the cellar to allow expression of the character of the vineyards. No new oak ensures that the quality of the fruit and terroir shine through in every bottle.

Campo de Borja

Bodegas Aragonesas

This innovative and ambitious organisation is located in the Campo de Borja region, just south of Rioja and Navarra. They select the best wines from the local co-operatives and then finish them by blending, oak ageing, filtering, and bottling at Aragonesas before putting them onto the market for the benefit of us all. Garnacha (Grenache) is the predominant grape, and the results being achieved by this imaginative process are truly impressive.

Bodegas Ochoa

Located in Olite, the wine capital of Navarra, Bodegas Ochoa is a family owned winery that strives to convey the spirit, passion, and dedication of over 160 years of winemaking in every bottle they produce. The current generations to run the estate, Javier and his daughter Adriana, are widely seen as pioneers for the Navarra region, with several of their research projects resulting in improvements to the DO. With meticulous care in the vineyard and skillful winemaking, Bodegas Ochoa continues to set the standard for quality wines in the region, producing wines that rival some of the best in neighbouring Rioja. The estate is currently in conversion to becoming fully organic.

Savia Viva

This thoroughly modern winery is located just south of Barcelona, only 10 kilometres from the Mediterranean. Fully organic, this estate is blessed with many different types of soil, allowing them to produce wines of diversity and complexity. Their Cava is a fine example: Parellada from the hills provides floral freshness, Macabeu from the middle heights adds fruitiness, and Xarel-lo from the plains gives body and structure. The delicious Clasico Blanco is a blend of the same varieties but in different proportions, resulting in lovely fresh, tropical flavours.

Blai Ferre Just

Blai Ferre represents Priorat's new generation of winemakers. Growing up around vineyards in the area, he went to learn his trade at the top wineries of the region, including Alvaro Palacios. At only 22 years old, he discovered an old plot of Garnacha and decided to make his own wine. Hard work and perseverance paid off, and today he takes pride in making wines that are full of concentration and elegance. Located near the village of Gratallops, in the southwest of Catalonia, this winery was the very first to be classified as a DOQ Priorat.

Rías Baixas

Adegas Pombal a Lanzada

Adegas Pombal a Lanzada is a small family owned and operated winery drawing from two hectares of vines from some of the finest terroirs of Rías Baixas. The name derives from a long stretch of beach, which the winery overlooks called 'La Playa Lanzada'. The family has been growing grapes and producing wine from their vines for generations, they have only recently made the wine commercially available to the general public. All of the vines are cultivated organically and hand harvested before undertaking fermentation in stainless steel tanks using indigenous yeasts. Malolactic fermentation is prevented from taking place in order to preserve the purity of fruit, with six months ageing on the lees to provide extra depth and complexity.

Bodegas Valduero

Valduero, founded in 1984, was one of the first wineries established in Ribera Del Duero. It is family-run, owned and managed by sisters Yolanda and Carolina Garcia Viadero. Yolanda was the first woman to produce wine in the region and remains an active member of the appellation's board. The winery chose higher altitude vineyard sites for their quality potential, rather than those on lower ground. This focus on quality in the vineyard has resulted in Valduero consistently producing some of the region's best wines.

De Simon Family, Bodegas de la Marquesa

Rioja

Bodegas de la Marquesa

Established in the second half of the 19th century, this long-established family owned Bodega lies in the village of Villabuena, drawing fruit from estate-owned vineyards on the limestone ridges of Rioja Alavesa in Northern Spain. The estate's founder, Francisco Javier Solano y Eulate, the then Marquis of the Solana following the advice of a famous Bordeaux winemaker started ageing their wines according to methods widely used in Médoc and decided to sell them after further bottle ageing. Four generations later, the Bodegas, is under the custodianship of Juan Pablo De Simón and Milans del Bosch, great-grandsons of Francisco, who continue to produce wines in the same style and winemaking philosophy that inspired the Marquis of the Solana as well as embracing modern winemaking methods.

Bodegas Miguel Merino

Bodega Miguel Merino is one of the smallest cellars of DOC Rioja. It was founded in 1994 by Miguel Merino Snr, who after many years exporting Spanish wines throughout the world, he made his dream of having a small 'bodega' to make the best possible wines, come true. Miguel established his winery in Briones, one of the most beautiful villages in Rioja and most importantly one of the few areas in Rioja Alta that kept old vineyards. All of the bodega's vineyards are from the surrounding area, spread across no less than 34 parcels of land planted under vine between the end of the 19th century and 2001. The vineyard holdings total almost 13 hectares with just 55,000kgs of grapes harvested on average each year. Traditional and sustainable viticulture practices are followed with no use of herbicides and most of the work carried out by hand. The bodega's reputation has soared in recent years under the stewardship of Miguel's son (also Miguel), reinforced by the recent elevation to Rioja First Growth in Tim Atkin's annual classification.

Robert Sinskey Vineyards

This second-generation, family-owned and operated estate, focus on 'elegance over brawn' which is reflected in the finesse and elegance of their wines and their ability to age gracefully. The estate has had the same winemaker for over 25 years, who produces the wines with a food pairing in mind, presenting his wines with appropriate foods from the kitchen where possible. Robert Sinskey is a native Californian who describes himself as an 'atypical vintner' with the philosophy that 'wine is not an athletic event' or a 'quick study', but rather should be allowed to seduce you and evolve in the glass and bottle.

Port, Portugal

We have been shipping Port since the late 1800s, becoming major importers of bulk Port in the 1930s and, during the 1980s, one of the largest shippers of Vintage Port to the UK. We are proud of our long-standing connections in the Port trade and especially of the strong relationships that we have built up over the years with all the leading Port houses. Today, we hold stocks of every major vintage between 1970 and 2013, but that is not the whole story – ‘Davy’s Finest Reserve’ has been specially matured in oak casks for us in Vila Nova de Gaia, and we have lighter styles too, such as our fabulous Quinta da Silveira 10 Year Old Tawny.
