Our portfolio centres around a collection of independent small growers - typically thirty hectares or less - whose wines bear the hallmarks of those who crafted them, whilst retaining a strong sense of place and respect for the environment.

Pounamu, Marlborough, New Zealand - Jackie Oakley

Pounamu is an independent family-owned wine company based in the Waihopai Valley of Marlborough. In Māori, Pounamu means greenstone, a rare and treasured stone that symbolises peace and harmony. Wines are grown predominantly at a Single Vineyard site with some Sauvignon Blanc parcels from special and select vineyards around the Marlborough region. The wines are 100% Sustainably Accredited. Special, Spirited, Authentic.

Little Beauty, Marlborough, New Zealand - Jackie Oakley

This great little privately-owned estate lies in Marlborough's Southern Valleys, where the wines differ slightly from the mainstream. This delectable Single Vineyard property is spread over five blocks, each with its own soil profile and microclimate, allowing stellar winemaker Eveline Fraser the chance to make unusually complex, multi-dimensional, terroir-driven wines. Production is limited across all five varietals. All wines are 100% Sustainably Accredited.
